Important Links

This video was originally created for the Carrier Bead Bead-A-Long in March 2018, but the demo of how to stitch the peyote covers and attach them to the carrier beads is the same.

Jill walks you through it all here:

Make the peyote strips

All the peyote strips for this project are even count. There are six different patterns in this project – you can make each carrier bead with a different pattern, or choose one you like and make them all the same pattern. It's your choice! I love doing them both ways.

To create the strips, follow the instructions in the video here: https://youtu.be/05kkaG\_QcmY?t=1286

To attach them to the carrier beads, my favorite way is to use double sided tape, although small adhesive dots (.05mm) will work too. https://youtu.be/05kkaG\_QcmY?t=2634

Assemble the necklace

Once your carrier beads are covered, and all the threads are ended off, it's time to assemble your necklace!

Use a length of Soft Flex beading wire that works for the size necklace you need. I use the finished necklace length I desire and then add 4 inches to that (2 inches for each side.)

String on a crimp and one half of your clasp. Fold the beading wire back through the crimp, and then using a crimping pliers, crimp it down.

Now string on the following:

- Size 8 seed bead
- Small TierraCast spacer
- Large TierraCast spacer
- Carrier bead
- *Size 8 seed bead
- *Large TierraCast spacer
- *Size 8 seed bead
- *Carrier bead
- Repeat adding * items until you add the last carrier bead
- Large TierraCast spacer
- Small TierraCast spacer
- Size 8 seed bead

Take a second to look over the set of beads and make sure you have them all the way you want them (the right order, that you like the sequence of colors, and you haven't omitted any the way I did with the last size 8 seed bead on one of my samples!)

String on a crimp and the second half of your clasp. Fold the beading wire back through the crimp. Before you crimp it down, now is a great time to try on the necklace to see if you want to make any size adjustments. Once you're happy, use your crimping tool to crimp it down.

Add crimp covers if desired.
